Summit Evaluations

 Discussion on two options of evaluations, public and private. Question on evaluation options anonymity, and discussion about whether people will be constructive in anonymous surveys. Worries about anonymous public surveys results being corrupted by non-kvcc people. Suggestion of adding QR code to back of Summit pamphlet. We need to add targeted reminders of evaluations. Public links would allow people to take the evaluation multiple times, which could be a problem. Consensus is the targeted option is preferred for a try. Suggestion of having a QR code available and built in to a breakout session. We should have two reminders, once a week for the two weeks after Summit. Renee says she likes evaluation kit format of responses better than Google Survey data.

April Summit Updates

Keynote speaker is for Student Development employees for first part of Summit. Second portion of keynote is just for faculty. Lunch will be provided during this Summit.
Paige is working with Deans on getting breakout sessions. Some facilitators will Zoom in due to budget concerns. AI is a topic that will be covered, then ALC meeting, and finally a general session with the PTK fundraiser walk. No other breakouts are needed for this Summit. Jenny talks to ALC about who needs to have department meetings during Summit. Jenny will tell chair's to tell Gail if they need department meeting in April. Renee interested in how AI sessions go at April Summit and maybe do something on the topic for Staff in future because lots of staff don't know anything about AI.

Fall Summit

Justin Campbell might be the keynote speaker. Nakena brought him in for Cultural Responsiveness series. He might be for keynote, but might just be for faculty breakouts sessions. It's still up in the air. Jenny Ott commented that Justin's focus is K-12 & his focus is Common Core, which doesn't apply to colleges. He also tells a KVCC story about taking an easy math class at KVCC and someone should ask him not to tell that story. Gail says he'll be here on first day if August Summit to either do Keynote or breakout, or maybe both. Do we want him to do both? Day two would use committee's suggestions such as a student panel and/or a panel of faculty that are in different t stages of their careers teaching. Call for proposals beginning of April for Fall Summit. Val Owen's mentions Crisis Management Committee. She would like a Summit session from them. Another suggested session was on Institutional Learning Outcomes. Dr. W. Supportive of fun sessions. Beth suggested pickleball.

Faculty & Staff Awards

We're hoping for luncheon, or a reception with snacks. Not sure which room to host ceremony in. Gail will speak with Kathy Collella about Staff Awards.

AI Taskforce Update

The taskforce is wrapping up soon and will be giving Paige their statements and recommendations. Paige will review. Achieving the Dream can review the committee's findings and offer their suggestions and comments. We can ideally have a fall Summit session on that stuff.

General Summer Updates
Simple Syllabus training ongoing. General committee discussion on AI topics that we've heard about and read about. Beth's has a sabbatical art show on April 5th at the CNM gallery. Jim mentioned lots of residential buildings being built downtown around our campuses.

Next FDC Advisory Board Next meeting is April 18th.
